deceased who was lying face downwards half on and half off the paliasse. His left arm was extended His right arm was bent beneath him. He was clutching the revolver produced in his right hand which was pointing towards the left. The revolver was beneath him. I raised him and took the revolver from him and on examining it I found one discharged cartridge in it. The other five chambers were empty. He also had a wound in the right side of the head apparently caused by a bullet. There was blood on the floor. I searched his pockets and in a brown leather wallet I found the two photographs produced with the writing on them and which I took charge of. There was no sign of a struggle. I subsequently assisted in removing him to the mortuary. I found no other papers of any consequence on him.

(Signed) C. S. Jackson P.C. 202.

This deponent on Oathsaith my name is Richard Todd Herald I am a Captain and Medical Officer of the 72nd Canadian Infantry Battalion. I knew the deceased in Vancouver and attended him there after he had joined the Battalion and operated upon him for appendicitis. He frequently used to consult me at this Camp. Since 9th June 1916 he has done no duty. There was nothing definitely wrong with him but he was rather anaemic and not a strong man. He always worried and was low spirited. On Friday morning the 23rd inst. I told him that it would be necessary for me to bring him before a Medical Board as he was not fit to go to the front. He had been very keen to go to France but quite agreed with me that he was unable. This I know was a great blow to him. The cause of death was undoubtedly the wound from the revolver bullet which has been referred to. I saw the revolver in his hand. There was every probability that the wound was self inflicted. I don't know how he came by the revolver. I firmly believe deceased was not in his right mind at the time knowing him as I did. The deceased had been dead some hours when I saw him. These lines were practically deserted on the date in question as the Companies were away at the Rifle Range. Deceased had never threatened to commit suicide so far as I know. The photograph of the lady produced is that of the wife of the deceased.
