Medical Officer i/c case.

2.7-2-19, Patient had a Bismuth series which shows the gas, enterostomy functioning well, stomach entirely through this opening in 2 hours. The pylorus is now completely occluded. He is running a temp up to 102° the past week which with associated pain would indicate some ulceration probable in the cancerous masses in the peritoneal cavity. Well.

Mar. 1/19 After marked epigastric pain & epigastric distention coming on 24 hrs. ago. which evidently signified rupture or perforation of stomach. Patient gradually became weaker & died at 11:30 a.m.

Mar. 1/19.

Mar. 1/19. Autopsy revealed. Progressive peritonitis set up by perf. of pylorus at site of carcinoma with abscess in peritoneum not wall off. Gastroenterostomy functioning well & well healed. Liver & gall bladder a mass of carcinomatous growth.

Examination of stomach.

Signed, A.S.Waugh.

Major.

The stomach examined following ingestion of an opaque meal shows a post gastro-enterostomy which is apparently functioning well, the stomach emptying in less than three hours. There is a mass at the pylorus which completely closes off the pylorus opening. This is in my opinion a malignant growth.
