AUBIN ST. VAAST,

Sir,

I beg to make the following report.

At 2-40 a.m. this morning L/Cpl. CRONE and myself were awakened by the Chef-de-Gare here, who stated that a British officer was lying seriously injured down the line. Immediately we partly dressed, and I telephoned the 59 Casualty Clearing Station to send an ambulance at once to the station, this message was delivered at 2-45 a.m. L/Cpl. CRONE and myself then proceeded with the greatest possible speed to the spot, and there discovered an officer (who, it afterwards turned out to be Lieut. ADAMS, of the Canadian Engineers) lying about five feet from the rails on his right side. I made a quick examination of the officer, finding that he was badly injured, his right hand and arm being apparently severed, and in addition, a fairly large wound on the head. His condition being very serious I again got on with 59 C.C.S. requesting them to hurry the ambulance, and I despatched a soldier who was near to hunt around the village for a medical officer. We made the officer as comfortable and warm as possible by covering with blankets, and administering little drops of water. The ambulance arrived at 3-45 a.m. along with an orderly, who then took charge of the case, and by the time the medical officer arrived the patient had just been placed on the ambulance, the doctor stating that the injured person had better be taken at once to the hospital.

Although having a good knowledge of First Aid, I refrained from bandaging the wounds, having regard to their number and positions, and the condition of the patient.

I despatched L/Cpl. CRONE with the ambulance to the hospital, who reports having handed over the patient.

Immediately after the ambulance had gone I made a careful examination of the spot where the officer was found, and discovered that he was found 23 paces from a level crossing, and about 7 paces from a pair of points. I also noticed on the officer's left wrist, a watch case minus the works, and upon searching around I found a watch glass 5 paces from where the body was found, and also a button apparently from the officer's tunic another 10 yards further back towards the barrier, also, the sleepers bore signs of something having swept along them, and my opinion is that he was knocked down, probably by an engine or train, and carried along the line for about 15 paces.

Yours obediently,

Ernest Georges Bailleux, Chef de Station, at Aubin St. Vaast, having been duly sworn states:

About 2.40 A.M., 22nd June, 1918, I was going around the station yard with my Agent, Theodore Deliwaule, when I found an English Officer lying between the rails of the south track, directly east of switch No. 1. He was lying face down, with his head toward St. Pol and his feet against the points of the switch. His right hand was lying on the rail badly crushed, his shoulder was badly hurt and he had had wounds in the head. We lifted him from between the rails and placed him clear of the south track. We found an Officer's cap on the level crossing between the south track and the barrier. We notifed the R.T.O.'s Office at once. We could see traces, between the rails, where some body has been dragged from the level crossing to the switch.

Ernest Georges Bailleux, Chef de Station, at Aubin St. Vaast,
Having Been duly sworn states:

About 2.40 A.M., 22nd June, 1918, I was going around the station yard with my Agent, Theodore Deliwaule, when I found an English Officer lying between the rails of the south track, directly east of switch No.1. He was lying face down, with his head toward St.Pol and his feet aginst the points of the switch. His right hand was lying on the rail badly crushed: his shoulder was badly hurt and he had had wounds in the head. We lifted him from between the rails and placed him clear of the south track. We found an Officer's cap on the level crossing between the south track and the barrier. We notified the R.T.O.'s Office at once. We could see traces, between the rails, where some body had been dragged from the level crossing to the switch.

INSTRUCTIONS.

1. These forms are to be completed in all cases of accidental or self-inflicted injuries, involving a soldier's absence from duty, whether due to the man's own act, or that of a comrade, or to other extraneous circumstances.

2. Where several casualties occur as the result of one accident, one form is to be completed for each Officer or other rank injured, but only one set of statements from the witnesses of the accident need be attached.

3. Full statements are to be taken by an Officer from the witnesses of the accident. These statements will be signed by the witnesses making them, and by the Officer who takes them, and will be forwarded with this Form. Where it is intended to take disciplinary action, copies of these statements should be retained by the Unit for use in lieu of a summary of evidence.

4. Where it is possible to obtain it, a statement from the injured man will also be forwarded. This, however, should not be used as evidence against him in any subsequent disciplinary proceedings.

Special Instructions as to Evidence in Cases of Self-Inflicted Wounds.

5. In these cases the statements mentioned in paragraphs 2 and 3 above should bring out all material points, e.g., statements to the effect that the witness was with the accused standing on the fire step (or sitting in a dug-out); that the accused was cleaning his rifle; position of safety catch, magazine, etc., if known; muzzle of rifle on toe of foot; hand on muzzle; that accused pulled trigger; that the rifle was afterwards examined and an empty cartridge case was found in chamber; that accused was seen to be wounded; what accused said ("I have shot myself," "I did not know it was loaded," etc.).

6. A soldier is specially trained in the safe use of his rifle and revolver, and evidence of any neglect of the ordinary precautions as to their handling in such cases usually has considerable bearing on the question of negligence. In cases of wilful self-wounding the fullest possible evidence should be obtained; unless the evidence is conclusive this charge should not be used. The charge will therefore usually be laid under sec. 40 Army Act—"Conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline in wounding himself through negligently handling a rifle," and an alternative charge to this effect should be made, even if the accused is to be tried under section 18 for wilful maiming.

The Court having assembled pursuant to order, proceed to take evidence:

660823, A/Cpl L.P.Dozois, 22nd Cdn B'n, att'd 2nd Div'l Wing, C.C.R.C. is duly sworn as Interpreter.

1st Witness: Ernest Georges Bailleux, Chef de Station, at Aubin St. Vaast, having been duly sworn, states:

About 2.40 A.M., 22nd June, 1918, I was going around the station yard with my agent, Theodore Delivaulle, when I found an English officer lying between the rails of the south track, directly east of switch No.1. He was lying face down, with his head toward St.Pol and his feet against the points of the switch. His right hand was lying on the rail badly crushed: his shoulder was badly hurt and he had had wounds in the head. We lifted him from between the rails and placed him clear of the south track. We found an officer's cap on the level crossing between the south track and the barrier. We notified the R.T.O.'s office at once. We could see traces, between the rails, where some body had been dragged from the level crossing to the switch.

Bailleux

2nd Witness: 250317, L/Cpl Crane, R.E., Royal Engineers, having been duly sworn, states:

I am the R.T.O.'s clerk at Aubin St. Vaast.
About 2.40 A.M., 22nd June, 1918, I was awakened by the Chef de Gare, who stated that a British Officer was lying, seriously injured, on the railway track near Aubin St. Vaast station. I partly dressed myself and immediately 'phoned No.59 Casualty Clearing Station at Hesdin and asked them to send an ambulance to Aubin St. Vaast station at once. In company with 109299, Cpl T. Clare, R.E., I went out and found the officer lying about four feet south of the south track of the double track railway and about 25 yards west of the level crossing. At this time the officer was conscious and on being questioned, said he did not know how he had been hurt. We made an examination of his injuries finding that his right hand had been completely crushed, his right arm was badly cut below the elbow, his right shoulder was badly mangled and he had two bad wounds in the back of his head. When found the officer was lying on his right side with his head towards Etaples and my impression was that he had been hit by a train. On the south rail of the south track there was blood and on both sides of it there was a pool of blood about one square foot in area, opposite to where the officer was lying. We endeavored to ease the suffering of the officer in any way we could, giving him a drink of water, which he asked for. I went and again 'phoned No. 59 C.C.S. urging them to hasten the despatch of the ambulance. We sent a soldier who was near to hunt for a Medical Officer. The ambulance arrived about 3.45 A.M. with a R.A.M.C. man who attended to the Officer, bandaging his wounds. After placing the officer in the ambulance, an M.O. arrived, who examined the officer and ordered him to be sent to the hospital right away. I accompanied the officer to the hospital and saw him put in bed, after which I returned to Aubin St. Vaast. From the "Record of Services" book carried by the officer, I found that he was Lieut. Adams of the Canadian Engineers.

R Crane. L/Cpl 250317. R.E.

3rd Witness: Lieut. W.T.G.Henderson, 29th Cdn Inf. Batt'n, att'd temporarily Canadian Corps Staging Camp, being duly sworn, states:

I am O.C. Canadian Corps Staging Camp at Aubin St. Vaast.
At approximately 3.15 A.M. 22nd June, 1918, I was notified that an Officer by the name of Lieut. L.B.Adams, Att'd C.E.R.D. had been found severely injured on the railway track approximately 23 yards west of the level crossing in Aubin St. Vaast. On proceeding to the spot, I found Lieut. Adams lying beside the tracks, with a severe scalp wound, a slight wound on the side of the face and his right hand badly crushed. He was removed to hospital at approximately 4.00 A.M. by an ambulance of the 59th C.C.S.

W.T.G.Henderson Lt. 29th Bt.

4th Witness: 883257 A/Sgt, F.W.Wall, C.E., att'd C.E.R.D., having been duly sworn, states:

I am Medical Sergt of the C.E.R.D. at Aubin St. Vaast. At about 3.15 A.M. 22nd June, 1918, I was awakened by a soldier who told me that there was a man lying on the railway track, with a hand cut. I partly dressed myself and hurried to the scene of the accident where I saw Lieut. Adams, C.E., lying near the track. His right arm was badly crushed and he had wounds in his head. I went back immediately to get Capt Binkley, our M.O. and gathering some bandages from my quarters, I went back to the level crossing on a motorcycle with Dvr Pickel. The ambulance had arrived. The medical orderly on the ambulance bandaged up the officer. The officer was placed in the ambulance and I accompanied him to 59 C.C.S. Hesdin. I noticed that the officer was wearing a wrist watch but that all the works were missing, also the crystal. From the clotted condition of the blood on his wounds and on the ground, I should judge that he had been injured some hours before. His clothes were badly torn.

Fred. W. Wall. A/Sgt. 883257 C.E.

5th Witness: 1078337 Dvr H.A.Pickel, Cdn Engrs, att'd C.E.R.D., having been duly sworn, states:

I am a motorcyclist with the C.E.R.D. at Aubin St.Vaast. I billet with the medical Sergt if the C.E.R.D. About 3.15 A.M. on the 22nd June, 1918, at Aubin St. Vaast I was awakened by a man enquiring for the medical sergeant, who got up and went away with him. The Sergt came back in about fifteen minutes and said one of our officers was badly hurt down at the railway crossing. I took him back to the railway crossing on my cycle and then I came back for Capt Binkley, our M.O., whom I took down to the scene of the accident. At this time the officer was being put into the ambulance. Captain Binkley examined him and then the ambulance went away. While walking along the track I found the movement of a watch about fifteen feet west of the level crossing. The hands of the watch had stopped at 11.30. My impression was that the injured officer had been knocked down by a train and dragged to where he was found.

Dvr H.A.Pickel 1078337

6th Witness: Capt. G.E.Binkley, C.A.M.C., att'd temporarily to C.C.Staging Camp, having been duly sworn, states:

I am M.O. of the C.E.R.D. at Aubin St. Vaast. Between 3.30 A.M. and 4.00 A.M. 22nd June, 1918, I was told by my medical sergeant that Lieut. L.B.Adams, att'd C.E.R.D. had been struck by a train near the Aubin St. Vaast station, also that an ambulance had been ordered. I dressed as quickly as possible and hurried to the scene of the accident. Lieut. Adams was lying on a stretcher in an ambulance unconscious. His wounds had been dressed and he was resting quietly. I ordered Sergt Wall, my medical Sergt to accompany Lieut. Adams, in the ambulance, to hospital. I gave orders to the ambulance driver to take the officer to the hospital as quickly as possible.

G.E.Binkley Capt. C.A.M.C.

7th Witness: Major R.B.Blair, R.A.M.C., 59 C.C.S., duly sworn, states:
I am Acting O.C. of 59 C.C.S. at Hesdin. On the 22nd June, 1918, Lieut. L.B.Adams, C.E. was admitted to 59 C.C.S. at 4.00 A.M. He was suffering from severe injuries to right upper arm, head and body and legs. He had an amputation of the right upper arm, which was probably due to some heavy vehicle passing over him. He was collapsed and pulseless and only semi-conscious. In spite of efforts at restoration, he died at 8.45 A.M. 22nd June, 1918.
