9/6/17 Reporton Nerve

12 JUN. 19 Right Anterior tibial group + Internal calf muscles do not react to Faradism -
Galvanism + massage daily to all muscles
Dr Elec: Passive movements to knee - 1 week.
Rt Posterior tibial - for Capt Hartt. Transfer to Granville

No reaction to Faradism in Group of muscles below knee.
The reaction to Galv is only very slow and sluggish.
To continuous current - unable to get any response even up to 2 mic: farads.

12 July-17 He has no power whatever in peronei or ant. Tibial group of muscles and he has no loss of cotton wool touch in any area. To a pin prick his only area of impairment and confusion is the ant. tibial distribution between the great and second toe (this is not loss). His reflexes sense is normal. It is shirking in this case to call the degree of impairment (which mechanically speaking is nothing) sensory loss to compared with the lack of any power in the ant. tibial group or the peronei. To go to examining room is easy for electrical reactions.

5.5.17 With Lt May's kindly report as to possible injury of ant. popliteal nerve -

May 8. ~~Brown~~ R. knee is kept semi-flexed, owing apparently to reflex spasm. There is loss of voluntary movement at ankle & toes. Sensation over dorsum of foot is normal; over sole, it is perhaps slightly impaired, but there is no loss anaesthesia
The entry wound in thigh is discharging freely. I do not think there is any complete lesion of either branch of the sciatic; the loss of power is probably temporary.

July 13-17	~~Cut~~ Galvanic minimus + Solaris are reacting slowly to strong Faradism, but fairly promptly to Galv. and to .5 micro farads at 100 Volts condensed Current. Other muscles of leg do not react to Faradism and only sluggishly to Galv. Tibialis Anticus reacts to .2. and Peronii to 1 micro farad at 100 Volts condensed current.
	Patient has now fairly good voluntary power in calf muscles. Rep. Capt.
	Return in 1 week.
24 JUL 1917 25 JUL 1917	Ex. Communis Digitorum reacts to .25 micro farads at 100 Volts. Otherwise no change to note in electrical reactions. However power in calf muscles is increasing and patient has now voluntary power in Ex. Communis Digitorum.
	On closer examination there is a very suggestive change in that now when testing electrode is placed over or under Head of Fibula the Galv. will then cause contraction of Ant. Tibials + Peronei.
2 AUG 1917	Carry on. Return in 10 days. No change to note. J. T. Hard
