The only thing he complains of at present time is headache and dizziness. He says these symptoms occur after he walks around considerably. The pain is of the sharp shooting type. After he has a good rest the pain disappears. The dizziness occurs at the same time and goes away after he rests. No other symptoms elicited. No mental symptoms

This man is not neurotic nor in my opinion has he any organic nervous disease. I would suggest X. Ray of
