History This man says he had brain fever in 1911 and was out of his head for about 7 mos.

He says he was under the care of Dr. Beemer in Munich but was not a patient in the asylum. The condition came on ~~was~~ about a week after being hit in the head by a cricket ball. He made a complete recovery. He enlisted in 1914.

In April 1916 he was blown up by a shell and was rendered unconscious for 2 days. Following this he was extremely shaky and had vomiting spells. His condition prevented us to see him 7 mos ago. He also has had up spells when his head has been numb and he is depressed and cannot stand to have anyone around him.

Objective Findings

No evidence of organic nervous disease. No tumors. Patellar reflexes as slightly hyperactive. Other reflexes normal. Pupils react normally. No sensory disorder.

Subjective
The only symptom to complain of at time of examination is weakness of feet - can't walk farther than a mile.

Diagnosis - Obviously I can find no evidence of nervous disease. From history and subjective of findings would say this is a case of traumatic neurosis. Condition apparently developed by mental disturbance before entrance. Recommended
