This man was admitted for Influenza. While in Hospital in the ordinary routine of examination it was found that his urine contained albumin. .05%. None of his symptoms are referable to albuminuria. He is now quite well and conscious of nothing. The quantity passed remains constant - it neither diminishes on milk diet nor increases on full diet. He is 40 years old - I should like this man to be discharged to Command depot for duty as he is so fit, disregarding the regulations in dealing with such cases. He is an old Soldier.
