WOODSTOCK

Is pleasantly situated in the south-west corner of the Township of Blandford, bordering on the river Thames and Cedar Creek and is an important station on the Great Western and Credit Valley Railways, and on the Port Dover and Lake Huron Section of the Grand Trunk Railway. It is distant from Hamilton, 48 miles ; from London, 29 miles ; and from Ingersoll, 10 miles. Woodstock being the County Town and the Judicial seat of the County of Oxford therefore has a decided advantage over other towns in the County. It has always been considered slow in its growth, but at the same time its progress has been substantial and sure, and to-day it is undoubtedly the largest and most important town in the County. Population about 5,300. Woodstock is situated in the midst of a splendid agricultural and dairy country, and owing to its pleasant, clean and healthy appearance strangers of means are attracted here to spend the summer months. Its manufactories are numerous and large, comprising among them some of the most important industries of the Dominion. The Public Buildings, Churches, Schools Hotels, etc., of Woodstock are unsurpassed in the country. Very many people are attracted to the town owing to its superior educational facilities, among which may be noted the Canadian Literary Institute. Few towns in Canada can surpass Woodstock in the magnificence and value of its retail stores, and none stand higher among wholesale men than the merchants and business men of this place. It also possesses numerous Banks, Loan Societies, etc., and all the other Institutions that are invariably found in a large and prosperous town. No town in Canada can boast of Journals of higher merit than those that belong to Woodstock. The first of these the Sentinel-Review is published by Messrs. Pattullo & Co., who claim the largest circulation in Canada outside of city papers. The Times, conducted by Mr. Francis, is also in a healthy condition. There is no doubt that the flourishing condition of Woodstock to-day
